

CONTENT

CASH & VOUCHER ASSISTANCE

Cash & voucher assistance

Cash and voucher assistance (CVA) can be selected as an early action to prevent or mitigate the impact of extreme weather events. Cash assistance means giving people money instead of goods so they can meet their own needs before, during or after an emergency. CVA can allow humanitarian organisations to respond to multiple causes of vulnerability, and to tailor humanitarian programmes as closely as possible to national and local needs.